Add the Image As you begin to create your design, you'll need to add images to your canvas and then save the document. You can choose from the Image Bin (including from the web, images from the desktop, or Photoshop's own Special Effects Library), and you can add all the images you want in one go, or you can add them one by one. To add an image to your canvas, simply select it and drop it onto your canvas. When adding images to a canvas, it is important to keep them all relative to one another so you can see them without having to resize them. This is especially important if you're using the Large Canvas option, which enlarges the canvas. If you add an image that is too small to fit inside the canvas, you will need to resize it.

* The Clone Stamp tool (on the Toolbar), as shown in Figure 7-3, is one of the most important tools in Photoshop. As you may have guessed, the Clone Stamp is what uses to clone (copy) pixels. The Clone Stamp tool can also be used to erase pixels or paint pixels with a color. * When you use the Clone Stamp tool, the tool options change depending on what you are trying to do. If you are using the tool to paint with a color or erase pixels, you just change the brush size, the brushing method, and the brushing color. * When you are using the Clone Stamp tool to paint or erase pixels, you can choose to use the Dither method. Dither is a quality assurance option when you're using a color to paint with the Clone Stamp tool, because it creates a visual element of the image that is more pleasing to the eye. * Use the Brush slider to change the size of the brush and the Brush Tip to change the brush-stroking method. Figure 7-3: The Clone Stamp tool. 11. Click the Brush tool to open the Brush Tool options. 12. A new brush opens, sized at 50 pixels (on the Brush Size menu), as shown in Figure 7-4. 13. To create the wavy lines, select a brush size with a large brush tip (on the Brush Tip menu), and then use the Paint Bucket tool to slowly pick up a color in the color-fill window (see Figure 7-5). 14. Press the key to cycle through the colors to choose a color. 15. When you reach the color you want, press the key to paste the color into the image. 16. While the color is still selected, press to change the brush size to a size of 100 pixels (on the Brush Size menu). 17. To create the lighter color, again select a brush with a large brush tip (on the Brush Tip menu), and paint with the Paint Bucket tool. 18.
