
Microsoft Office Enterprise 2007 USB Edition No Installation Req

The screenshot shows a web interface for provisioning new devices. At the top, the heading is "Provision new devices". Below it, a paragraph explains that users can add all new devices for physical activation and on-site deployment by adding MAC addresses. The interface is divided into two main sections: "Provisioning summary" and "New device provisioning steps".

Provisioning summary

Added MAC addresses	Verification codes expired	Waiting to sign in

New device provisioning steps

- 1 Manually add or upload a file with new MAC addresses.
- 2 Generate a verification code.
- 3 Export the verification codes for your devices.

Below these sections are two status indicators: "Waiting on activation" (highlighted in blue) and "Waiting for sign in".

A central instruction box states: "You can either add your MAC address manually or use a CSV file to import one or more MAC addresses for your new devices to start provisioning." Below this, there are two buttons: "Add MAC addresses manually" (highlighted with a red box) and "Upload multiple MAC addresses" (highlighted with a blue box). A note below the buttons says: "The supported file format is CSV. download the template. Select and upload the CSV file."
